CALIFORNIA BANK & TRUST OPENS A NEW SMALL BUSINESS DIVISION IN CORONA Relationship bankers now available in Corona, Chino and Rancho Cucamonga to serve the Inland Empire

SAN DIEGO--(May 11, 2010) – California Bank & Trust (CB&T) (www.calbanktrust.com) announced today that the bank has opened a new small business division in Corona, with additional bankers located in Chino and Rancho Cucamonga, to service the Inland Empire. The new, experienced team will provide services and financial advice to small to mid-level businesses seeking a bank that is relationship-based and community-oriented.

“California Bank & Trust is a special bank that works to get to know their customers’ businesses, and what is important in the community where we work and serve,” said Patrick Davern, senior vice president and regional manager of the Orange/Inland Region. “We have the best team of bankers available to serve the area and we are looking forward to growing our business, and growing businesses, in the Inland Empire.”

Leading the Inland Empire Small Business Division of California Bank & Trust is Ted Hildreth, vice president and small business relationship banker team lead. He has a long history in banking since 1986 and has held the same title and duties of small business manager since 1998. As a small business leader, he is able to provide quality service and develop strategies for his clients.

The rest of the team consists of established bankers. Edwin Liu, vice president with over 10-years in business banking experience. He is a graduate of California State University of Los Angeles. Sonia Yenche is a vice president of business banking. Her expertise in banking spans an 18-year career. She has a master’s in business administration in
